The crowd saw an exhibition the first quarter of the Cameron-Rosebud-Lott basketball game Tuesday night. The Yoemen hit 12 of 14 field goals, about nine straight before they missed.

The Yoe went on to win 70 to 37 with a balanced shooting game and rebounding control. It was a quick reversal of form for the club which barely won over West Lake at the weekend, 50-48.

Coach Poole obviously put things together for Tuesday night. Rosebud-Lott is not that bad a team. It's just that Cameron came out to play.

An utility company and Alcoa are once again combining on construction of a lignite-burning facility in Robertson County, this time.

Alcoa and Texas Power & Light Co. are also involved through Industrial Generating Co. in Rockdale with a similar project expanding generating systems for immediate use of Alcoa's Rockdale Works.

But the Robertson County facility near Franklin will generate power for general distribution in the TP&L system and for the Alcoa plant under construction at Palestine.

So lignite once again provides resources for industrial development in Central and East Texas even while other sources are less economical.

More and more of the lignite in commercial quantities in the area will be used while the energy crunch compels alternative sources.

Plant construction at Franklin will be a major project, just as the Rockdale expansion.

By the way, President Ford has renamed the Laneport Dam, under construction six miles west of San Gabriel, Bartlett Dam because that community will set on the northwest edge of it.

Laneport was the name of the cross-roads community where the dam site is located. Construction has been underway for almost two years, costs estimated between $30 and $40 million.

Its waters will provide resources for industrial, irrigation and city water needs for years to come. Cameron is the first city of size downstream from the new reservoir.

It will be about 20 miles from Cameron by existing roads. Completion time is likely in the late 1970s. Lake surface water will be about 5,000 acres to 6,000 acres on a site of some 13,000 acres. Behind a dam retaining wall about two to three miles long, perhaps the longest in Texas.

City Tackles Dog Problem

The city will again attempt action to enforce its dog leash ordinance following another complaint and a motion Tuesday evening by city council to hire a dog catcher.

The man will be a member of the police department at policeman's salary and will be titled Animal Control Officer. Plans also call for moving the city dog pound from its present location to a spot close to city hall to discourage fence cutting and unofficial release of impounded dogs.

Appearing before the council on the dog problem was Joe Bartlett, who lives on Cleveland St. He spoke of a large number of dogs running loose in his neighborhood, turning over garbage cans and destroying flower beds.

Mrs. Coy Arledge also appeared before the council and asked why sewer service has not been extended to an area north of the city which was annexed some years back.

Mrs. Arledge, bookkeeper at the Starlite Club, said the club was notified by the health department that something had to be done about its septic tank system or the club will be closed.

She told how much the club and Thompson's Liquor Store has paid in city and sales taxes and said a new septic system could not be installed with tax costs as high as they are.

Mayor Gene Blake told her that Water Supt. Alvin Hefft will make a new survey of the area showing projected costs and report at the next council meeting this month.

In other business, council voted 4-1 to instruct the city secretary to secure bids from both local banks on certificates of deposit for $100,000 in city funds. Councilman Lincoln Mondrik voted against the motion.

Mondrik also voted against a motion to authorize curb and gutter work on the west side of City Park. Other street work authorized was scarifying and graveling portions of West 6th and West 8th.

Council voted to re-advertise for bids on an alert system for volunteer firemen and authorized purchase of a flat bed trailer for the street department.

Councilman Lawrence Zoltz said employee safety is being endangered by sanitation workers who stay inside the back of garbage trucks to dump cans. This was turned over to Works Supt. Walter Wallace to take care of.

'Brides To Burn' Is Class Play For Yoe Juniors

"Brides to Burn" is the offering of the Yoe High junior class on Thursday (tonight) and Friday at Ben Milam cafeteria. The annual play benefits class activities.

Curtain time each evening is at 7:30 p.m. Tickets will be sold at the door and will be $1 for students and $1.50 for adults.

A chili supper will precede the evening performances and will be served in the Ada Henderson cafeteria from 5:30 until 7 p.m. Tickets for the chili supper may be purchased at Yoe High or at the door for $1.25 for children under 12 and $1.75 for adults.

MOD Drive Continues, Queen Contest Open

Reports are coming in on donations for the 1974 March of Dimes and the "Miss TAP of 1975" contest, sponsored by the Milam County Chapter, March of Dimes, is in full swing with ten girls entered.

The Cameron Mothers March of Dimes and the business drive netted $721.83; the Rockdale Mothers March $1,100; Thorndale Mothers March and business drive, $337; Maysfield Mothers March $44; Branchville Mothers March $16.50; and the Milano Mothers March $100.

Pettibone, Ben Arnold, Pleasant Grove, Burlington, Minerva, and Gause are still working and various clubs, organizations, factories, etc.

have not had an opportunity to get their donations in, said Mrs. Florence Meissner, MOD chairman.

Mrs. Meissner said there has been some misunderstanding as to the March of Dimes being part of the United Fund but it is not felt that this will hinder the MOD chances to reach the goal of $8,500, set for the 1975 campaign.

Other activities planned are a games party and chili supper at the VFW Hall in Rockdale on March 11, a Record Hop for Rockdale High School students, a dance at Buckholts, and various domino parties and other activities which the county people contribute as a part of the fight against birth defects.

If you haven't had a chance to help and want to, contact your local people or send your donations directly to Bob Burnet, president Milam County Chapter, March of Dimes, Rockdale.

To date, these girls have entered the Miss TAP contest: Susan Simms of Thorndale; Sue Beth Cryer, Mary Ellen Ortega, and Dotty Boswell of Rockdale; Joannie Garrison and Connie Gunnels of Milano; Sheryl Ruback of Buckholts; Claudette Sanders, Kathy Hairston, and Renee Krenek of Cameron.

Any girl, 14 years of age or older, a resident of Milam County and a student in a county school, is eligible for this honor. The contest will run through February 16.

Crowning of the queen will take place at a dance at Buckholts on February 21 with Jerry Butch and the Gentrys supplying the music.

The girls will be selling tickets for donations on the following items: first prize $100, second prize $50, and third prize $25. The girls are eligible for cash and gift certificates and the queen will be crowned with the tiara shown by outgoing queen, Marcia Rodenbeck of Thorndale.

ELM CREEK surges under the bridge on Highway 77 as rainfall upstream floods Milam creeks and rivers. A number of farm to market roads were closed Sunday and Monday but no damage or loss of livestock was reported in the area.

Weekend Rains Flood County Rivers, Creeks

Heavy weekend rains over Williamson County and in the Temple area sent county streams out of their banks, closing a number of farm to market roads in the area.

Upstream dams have been releasing water from other recent heavy rains, adding to the flow of flood waters.

The local Texas Highway Department maintenance department listed these county roads closed and reopened:

FM 908 south of Rockdale, closed and opened Sunday; FM 1915 between Yarrington and Buckholt closed Sunday night and opened Monday with Elm Creek flooding; FM 437 on Donaho Creek closed Sunday night and opened Monday morning.

FM 2269 between Cameron and Yarrington on Elm Creek closed Sunday night and opened Monday night; FM 486 on Little River between Pettibone and Crossroads closed Monday morning and opened a short time later.

FM 486 from Crossroads to San Gabriel on Alligator Creek closed Monday morning and opened a short time later; FM 908 on Brushy Creek from Rockdale to FM 486, closed Monday morning and opened Monday night; and FM 487 from Rockdale to Sharp on the San Gabriel River, closed Monday and still closed Tuesday morning.

Sheriff Moves Into New County Jail

By Lloyd Albertson

Milam County's new jail went into operation on Saturday, and Sheriff Carl Black has moved his office over there from its old quarters on the second floor of the courthouse.

As of early this week five prisoners were confined in the escape-proof cellblock.

It is the first new jail for Milam County in 84 years -- that is, since the old one that was in use until last week was built in 1891.

One story, of brick, concrete and steel construction, it is ultra-modern in architecture. And it is equally as modern in its facilities; after an inspection by members of the Texas State Department of Health two weeks ago, Jimmy D. Dickens wrote Judge Harden that it "meets or exceeds" the requirements for Texas' Minimum Standard Law for Jails.

Cost of construction of the building was approximately $214,000, according to County Judge O. B. Harden.

The jail's front entrance features wide plate glass windows and doors, and these open into a large lobby or waiting room. Behind a counter on one side there is a long table containing three mobile radio consoles. These are manned during the day by sheriff department personnel, and enable them to keep in two-way contact with patrol cars and with law enforcement agencies in the area such as Rockdale, Hearne, Temple, Waco and other cities.

Adjoining the lobby in the southwest corner of the building is Sheriff Black's private office. And next to it is a smaller office for the use of the two Texas Highway Patrol officers in Cameron.

A corridor leads past a heavy door into the jail proper -- the section containing an interrogation room where prisoners can be questioned, and where the cellblock for men containing seven cells is located. Also in that section is the "drunk tank" where DWI's can be confined until they sober up and can be placed in a cell. There is also a padded cell in that area for use in restraining an insane person to prevent him injuring himself.

Adjoining this area is the jail's kitchen where the meals for the prisoners are prepared. It is complete with a large refrigerator, range, stainless steel sink and cabinets -- and is in a yellow and white decor.

Mrs. A. T. Swanzy has been employed to cook for the prisoners.

The cellblock for women and juveniles, containing four cells, is located in the north wing of the building.

All the cells are furnished with a bunk and mattress, a table and a chair for the prisoner's use.

The jail looks as though it had been designed to be as escape-proof as possible. All of the windows in the cellblock sections of the building extend from the floor to the ceiling, but are narrow, only six or eight inches wide. And the glass in them is several inches thick. Escape through one of them would be practically impossible.

The bars of the cells are said to be of a steel so hard that it cannot be sawed or cut by a file. And the cell doors are locked and unlocked electrically, with the control box being located on the corridor at the end of the cellblock.

If a prisoner managed somehow to escape from his cell, he still would be unable to get past the heavy doors on the corridor leading to the offices in front. And a steel mesh just above the ceiling would prevent him from cutting a hole and going out through the roof -- as some prisoners did several years ago in the old jail, causing Herald publisher Frank Luecke to comment editorially that the old jail's roof was "leaking people."

Although the new jail has been somewhat slow in becoming a reality -- it was in the "talk" and planning stage for some time before construction began -- it has been receiving a good deal of praise. Possibly Sheriff Carl Black spoke for the whole department when he said on Tuesday: "I like it and I am very glad we finally got it."

Judge Harden also expressed his appreciation and said he was happy Milam County has the new and modern facility.

Patman Eyes Interest Bill

A Senate bill which would mean a 35 percent increase in interest rates on a $1000 loan is being opposed by State Sen. Bill Patman, who issued a statement Tuesday about the bill. The bill was introduced on January 22.

Patman said that under the present law, the interest cost of $1000 is $110 on 12-month loans. Under the proposed law, the cost jumps to $150, a full 35 percent increase over present rates. Patman noted that a person borrowing $2600 will pay $320 in interest, a 53.9 percent increase over the present $208.

In addition, the Senator said, the borrower may be required to pay life, health and property insurance premiums to cover the loan. When the costs are mandatory, the annual percentage rates on a $1000 loan would increase from 26.62 percent to 34.59 percent under Senate Bill #69. "In many cases," Patman said, "the loan companies profit heavily from insurance charges."

"I strongly oppose Senate Bill #69," Patman stated. "The borrowing public will be faced with exorbitant interest rates, which will contribute to the problems of inflation and rising prices. Committee action on this legislation is uncharacteristically hasty."

Museum In Bargain...

The new Milam Jail is open and occupied by Milam Sheriff's Department personnel, officers of Department of Public Safety, and prisoners transferred from the old facility.

It is a landmark change in county annals, because the old Gothic-Victorian jail is now relegated to museum prospects. Interior of the Courthouse is already modernized.

This is another example of a transitional-break from the past. The old Milam Jail is not to be torn down, but to remain a repository for all the Central Texas history that Milam Land Institute and early Milam County represent.

The new one had passed every critical examination among experts in confinement facilities. It was apparently built to last in a modern world.

The old jail served its day, and it is to serve a new one.

The break with the past is complete, but not completely a break. The new in Milam County compliments the old where both recognize roles in present and future.

It has been about 10 years since county voters turned down the first county-wide bond proposal for new public county buildings. It was for a completely renovated courthouse, inside and out, and a new jail.

Except for the courthouse exterior, the county now has both. Short-sightedness required having to do it the hard way, but then we now can develop a museum in the bargain.

Raised To Its Zenith...

We hope as many Cent-Texans as hundreds of millions around the world watched the Conner-Laver tennis match Sunday afternoon. It was great tennis between a rising star and an established tennis great.

The precision, the power, and the endurance at world tennis level is worthy of the attention of power-oriented sports fans who identify with the crushing tackle or jarring block of team football.

There's not a 220-pounder in pro football who could maintain that three-hour pace, power, and agility like Conners, the 22-year-old winner in four sets, and Australian Rod Laver sustained.

Tennis has indeed come a long way when audiences around the world watch the same match on live television in Australia, Japan, the United States, Europe, and anywhere else Telstar scanned it.

Calibre of tennis has been elevated to world level in Texas. World Championship Tennis at Lakeway is in its second or third year. Tennis clubs are established by John Newcombe, the Australian star who has beaten Conners three times (because he is stronger at 30), who lives in Texas. Major tennis centers in Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, and great tennis teams at Trinity in San Antonio and Southwest Conference Houston, Texas, SMU put Texas in first-line rivalry with California. Perhaps Texas now leads.

But the expertise and strength of fine tennis players shown for mass viewing on television, forever wipes the image of a "dinkum" sport which is somehow not as athletic as the team sports.

The Conners-Laver match was not only a lesson in youth triumphing over age, but was fascination of a game of powerful finesse, which to the uninitiated may be a contradiction, but which tells the value of an individual game raised to its zenith.

Briscoe Budget Nixes Increased Taxes

Gov. Dolph Briscoe gave the Legislature a new set of figures to ponder—his $11.6 billion (all funds) version of the 1976-77 state budget.

Actually, the Briscoe budget calls for $3 billion in general revenue outlays over which the Legislature has direct control. In effect, this is $294 million less than Legislative Budget Board's earlier recommendation which forms the basis for Senate Finance and House Appropriations Committee hearings.

Briscoe handed his document to lawmakers with his standard warning: that he will not approve an appropriations bill that requires new or increased taxes.

While the Governor's executive budget document is $1.1 billion below estimated general revenue income, it does not include the funds he has promised for public school finance equalization and for emergency measures he has recommended.

His school finance plan, his budget aide estimates, will require another $600 million to $650 million. Emergency school spending and increases in state employees' pay and retirement benefits for state workers and school teachers will absorb about $280 million more.

When you add it all up, by Briscoe's own calculation, only about $60 million of a once-fat surplus would be left over if the executive budget is implemented. Cranking a sizable school finance plan adjustment into the LBB budget would leave no surplus at all.

Texas Research League renewed its warning that a major tax bill in 1977 is "almost a certainty" considering the course of budget recommendations to date.

CLAIMS ACCEPTED
Texas Employment Commission began taking claims for extended unemployment benefits February 1.

Those eligible to file are unemployed persons who have filed initial claims for benefits within a year before January 26 and have exhausted their benefit eligibility under old regulations.

Payments will be made at the same rate as for regular unemployment insurance, but the total extended benefits will equal only 50 per cent of regular benefits. A new federal program may pay extended benefits in the same amount as regular extended state benefits.

The extended benefits are available only so long as the rate of unemployment remains at levels specified by law.

Claimants who file for extended benefits on or before February 19 may file claims backdated to include January 26 if they meet usual requirements for unemployment insurance. Claims may be filed at the nearest Texas Employment Commission office.

UNITIZATION BACK
One of the explosive issues of the 1973 Legislature—oil field unitization—is back for another round.

Thirty-three representatives introduced it in the House in a "majority-consent" form.

The bill would allow owners of an oil field to join in a common production system to improve operational efficiency, make better use of the secondary recovery techniques and recover more oil from the ground.

Rep. David Finney of Fort Worth, the lead sponsor, claimed the legislation and full application of advanced technology could add at least two billion barrels of oil to reserves in Texas fields, and that an additional seven billion barrels may be recoverable by 1985.

Under present law all working interests and royalty owners in a field must agree to unitize production. Under the bill 75 per cent of producers and royalty owners could require unitization.

AG OPINIONS

The Legislature can limit the amount of funds that the State Board of Education can set aside out of the Available School Fund for use in providing free textbooks for public school students, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

- The Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation can allocate unexpended balances as state grants-in-aid to community centers for mental health and retardation services.

- Counties can accept a vendor's lien note as partial payment for county school land and sell the notes at not less than current fair market value.

- A lawyer's correspond-level was during October, November, and December of last year?

Furthermore, how many people in Cameron do you think would like it known how much they really produced last year or yesterday for that matter? And how can the government tell whether you're producing or not? It might look like an editor for example was just sitting in a cafe drinking coffee when all the time his mind is racing, although I don't suppose the statisticians have figured out a gadget to tell actually how fast it's racing. People's minds, like windmills, turn at different rates of speed, depending, sometimes of course, on which way the wind is blowing.

Now I know that some people are saying Congress is spending too much time investigating the CIA, the FBI, etc., but I'd like to see it look into how somebody found out how hard I worked last year. I believe Congress will be willing to do it. After all, if I was faced with solving the economic crisis I'd find something else to do, too.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

I never have understood how the government economists can figure out down to the last decimal point what the cost of living was last month. You know, ~~exp~~ It went up 8.1 percent, compared with 7.03 percent the month before. Things like that.

I suppose the figures are gotten up by school teachers who can tell you that the top student's knowledge after four years of high school stands at 94.5 compared with the next in line or salutatorian's at 94.4. It's an exact science and leave it at that. Don't be checking up to see how things turned out ten years after graduation.

Anyway, those are statistics you can take or leave but there's another batch that has me puzzled. Government statisticians have just announced that productivity by the country's whole work force decline 5.1 percent during the last three months of 1974.

How did the government get those figures? You talk about the CIA snooping on private citizens, you mean to say somebody has been checking up on me and can tell you what my production ence addressed to a grand jury in behalf of a client is not prohibited as long as it contains no threat.

- Alcoholic Beverage Commission is not supposed to reveal the home addresses of liquor licensees.

- Employees of a licensed structural pest control specialist do not have to pay a license fee themselves.

- Mental patients and the retarded doing institution-maintaining labor are not state employees for fringe benefit purposes.

County Agent's Notes

New Cash Crop Tried In Milam

By Bill McCutchen
Sunflowers growing in a Milam County field used to mean poor management and poor weed control. This year it will mean that several farmers are going to be looking at another cash crop alternative.

I worked on the sunflower cash crop possibilities several years ago in another county and the Russian varieties we used at that time had so many problems and such a low market value that we lost interest.

Today there is a hybrid sunflower that seemingly has eliminated many of the problems of the old Russian varieties. They are considerably better with 12.5¢ per pound contracts. Delivery is to Cen-Tex Cotton Oil Mill at Thorndale. Both seed and contracts are limited.

There are still some problems with sunflowers including the Sunflower head moth, and some harvesting problems, but I am basically optimistic about the crop and I am glad to see several producers in the Cameron and Thorndale area try it. If the price remains favorable it could become a significant alternate cash crop.

Another crop that has made headway in the last couple of years in the county is wheat. Wheat acreage went from almost nothing 3 to 4 years ago to 5,000 acres in 1974 and probably twice that in 1975. The reason again is that profit potential was there. In addition to the grain, wheat offers good winter pastures. These factors plus the fact that wheat can be grown on Johnsongrass land have contributed to the increased acreages.

To help determine the best varieties for this area both from the standpoint of grazing and grain yields a variety demonstration is being conducted on the Reeves Brown farm and ranch near Cameron. Agent, Caddo, Sturdy, Caprock, Coker 68-15, TAM W101, Pioneer HR975, Pioneer HR900, Pioneer W605, and Decalb 851 are in the test. Coker 68-15 and Pioneer W605 are the only soft wheats in the test, the remainder are hard red winter wheat.

As of this date, TAM W101 and Pioneer HR900 are showing significant amounts of leaf rust in this test. Coker 68-15 is ahead of the rest of the group in forage production at this stage.

Results of this demonstration will be published when completed.

Interest Costs Are Declining

Qualified farmers and ranchers should be able to borrow the production money they need for 1975 and at gradually declining interest costs, H. P. Dansby, Jr., Bryan Production Credit Association president, said today.

Dansby said projections are that the gradual decline in money costs will continue. "By June PCA farmers and ranchers should be paying from 1 to 1 1/2 percent less for their borrowed money."

The PCA officer said that his organization's method of obtaining money ensures an adequate supply for his stockholders in 1975. Funds for the Association are obtained through public sale of bonds.

"Our main concern," Dansby stated, "is that our members will not be able to tighten their belts enough to meet the increased production costs that we know are here to stay -- at least for awhile. Necessities are about all our members can afford now. 'Needs' and 'wants' are going to have to wait for better times."

Bryan PCA loaned more than $40 million in 1974.

Plan Grazing System For Efficiency

Ranchers looking for ways to ease the present pain in their pocketbooks should take a close look at an improved grazing system.

And the time to plan a grazing program for the coming year is now, so that it will be ready to put into practice by the time maximum forage growth begins in spring and early summer.

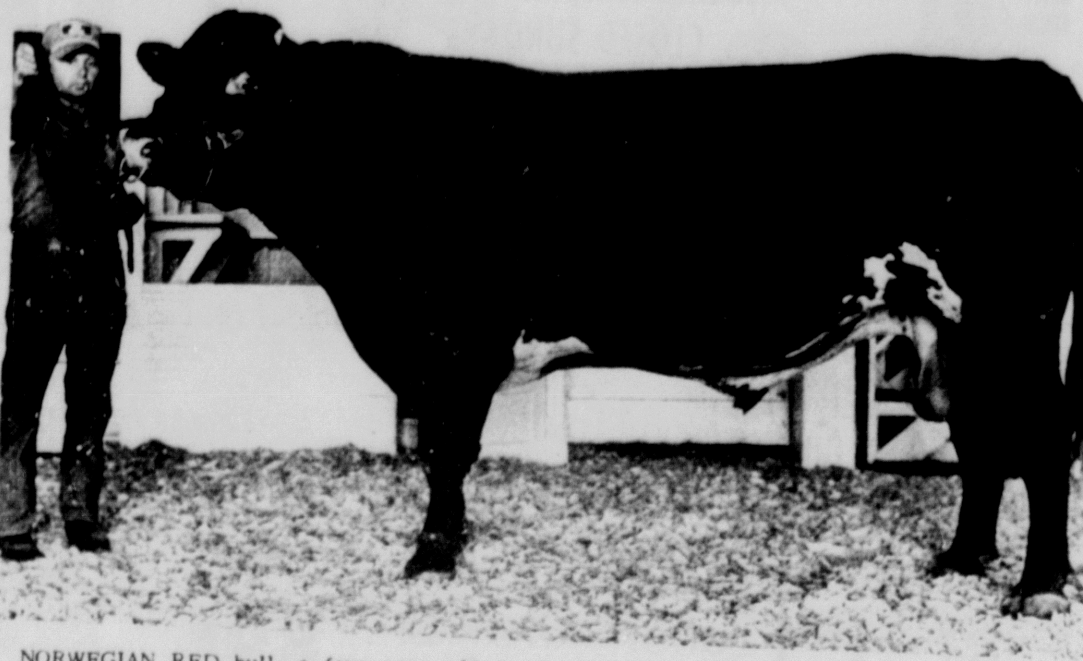

"A properly planned and operated grazing system can mean lower operating costs per head, better breeding efficiency, greater gains per acre, reduced costs for vehicles and labor, and reduced supplemental feeding," says Dr. Richard Bjerregaard, area range specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Most ranchers can initiate a deferred rotation grazing system with little or no initial expense if a moderate amount of cross-fencing and stock water development has already been done," points out Bjerregaard. "In some cases all that is required is to close gates between pastures and to move livestock from one pasture to the next in a planned time sequence that is compatible with management goals."

A grazing system need not be complicated, emphasizes the Texas A&M University System specialist. Two pastures and one herd make a working system. However, size and complexity depend on what a rancher wants to accomplish in terms of improved livestock and rangeland production in light of available resources.

"There are about as many grazing systems as there are livestock producers," notes Bjerregaard. "However, in every case the goal is the same; to grow more and better quality forage on fewer acres at less expense."

Information for planning and operating a successful grazing system is available from county Extension agents and Extension range specialists.

NORWEGIAN RED bull, a four year old purebred, will be exhibited by Southern Cattle Corp. of Burns, Tenn., at the Fort Worth Stock Show, the San Antonio Stock Show and also at the Houston Livestock Show, Feb. 19-March 2. The Norwegian Red breed was developed in Norway out of economic necessity and the extensive testing program conducted by the Norwegians centers around practical standards.

Cost Accounting Vital For Today's Ag Producer

With agricultural producers experiencing an ever tightening cost-price squeeze, the need for cost accounting has never been greater.

"The commercial agricultural producer today needs a complete and accurate accounting system and physical production records if he is going to succeed," contends Cecil Parker, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"It is necessary to know the cost of producing a unit of each enterprise to compare profitability and make management decisions." Cost accounting is the basis for allocating resources to improve resource efficiency, points out Parker. Management decisions based on cost accounting are much more likely to be profitable than decisions based on impulse or hunch. Other uses of accounting are tax reporting and obtaining necessary credit.

The economist notes that the Extension Service provides two types of accounting systems--the Farm Record System and the Texas Electronic Farm Accounting System (Tel-Fac).

The Farm Record System contains 10 sections which include farm business expense, farm and non-farm income, payroll record, accounts payable and receivable, continuous depreciation schedule, farm inventory, financial and profit and loss statement, hours and percent of equipment use, enterprise summary and analysis, and field treatment and performance record. Appropriate sections may be combined to fit each particular farm or ranch situation.

Farmers Visit Plant In Illinois

Approximately 95 John Deere customers and dealers from the Cameron area recently visited the Deere & Company Administrative Center in Moline, Illinois, as well as Deere factories in that area and in Iowa.

The purpose of the trip was to acquaint the customers and dealers with new John Deere farm equipment and show them how it is manufactured.

The visitors also met with company executives and saw slide and film presentations on new Deere products.

The Cameron group was one of many scheduled to visit the Deere headquarters and factories between mid-November and mid-March. Altogether, the company expects between 12,000 and 15,000 farmer-dealer visitors.

The Tel-Fac System has cost accounting as its primary objective. This system has four component parts: financial and production data, inventory and depreciable schedule, profit and loss statement, and enterprise analysis. Financial and production data are processed each month while other parts of the system are processed annually.

According to Parker, the basic difference in the two systems is that the Farm Record System is totally manual while Tel-Fac is computerized. However, the computer does not compensate for incomplete or inaccurate data, emphasizes the economist.

County Extension agents can assist producers with either of the two systems.

In addition to these accounting systems, several others are available from lending institutions and commercial concerns. "Which system a producer uses is not important, but some system definitely be used," believes Parker.

Bankers To Look At Ag Economy

What does the future hold for the agricultural economic situation in Texas?

This question, and other current concerns, will be examined at the 23rd annual Texas Farm and Ranch Credit School for Commercial Bankers at Texas A&M University, Feb. 10-12, according to Tom Prater, economist in management with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and the school's program chairman.

Roland Smith, Extension grain marketing specialist, will discuss "Feed and Food Grain Outlook," and Dr. Edward Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist, will speak on "The Livestock Outlook." Dan Davis, general manager of the Plains Cotton Co-op at Lubbock, will describe the "Cotton Market Outlook."

Here's a metric measurement from the Texas Department of Agriculture. One acre equals 100 square meters.

Cotton Planting Underway... Still Number One But Not Bragging... In Case You Missed It... Pesticide Question.

Now that February is here, cotton planting can officially begin in the Rio Grande Valley. A reduction of 50 per cent in acres to be planted this year compared to 1974 is now indicated for that section of the state.

The continued bleak outlook for cotton is the chief reason for the anticipated downturn in acreage. Expected to offset that cotton acre cut is an increase in grain sorghum, however.

While changes can yet occur, the following are recent percentage estimates of acres to be planted to cotton this season compared with last year: Coastal Bend 40 per cent; Upper Gulf Coast 40 per cent; Brazos-Navasota River Bottoms 40 per cent; Southern Blacklands 50 per cent.

EVEN though Texas continues to be the number one cattle feeding state in the nation, you don't hear too many people bragging about it any more, at least not for the present.

But for the record, Texas had 1,327,000 head of cattle on feed as of Jan. 1., the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Services notes. This is 40 per cent below the 2,205,000 head on feed as of a year ago. It is seven per cent below the number on feed a month ago.

The number of cattle on feed is the smallest for Texas since June 1970 when there 1,292,000 head on feed.

Nationwide, similar downturns are reported. Cattle and calves on feed for slaughter market in the 23 major feeding states totaled 9,619,000 head. This is 26 per cent below a year ago and 31 per cent lower than two years ago.

In Texas, the "large" feedlots--those with 1,000 or more capacity--had an occupancy of 43 per cent of their capacity. Twenty-five per cent of the large lots were completely vacant.

Feedlot operators report intentions to market 850,000 cattle between now and March 31. This would be 64 per cent of the number on feed as of Jan. 1 and would be 13 per cent lower than marketing during the same time span a year ago.

IN CASE you might have missed the final 1974 projections for major crops in Texas, here they are. Cotton production is set at 2,260,000 bales; this is 2,053,000 bales less than the 1973 upland cotton. Production of American-Pima cotton, however, slowed a slight increase in 1974 over 1973. Production in 1974 was set at 27,000 bales compared with 25,800 bales in 1973.

Grain sorghum production for Texas in 1974 is expected to be down a fourth from 1973. Total 1974 production is set at 312,000,000 bushels compared with 417,000,000 bushels produced in 1973.

The 1974 corn crop in Texas which comprises 73,600,000 bushels is the largest for the state since 1943. Yield is expected to average 92 bushels per acre. Peanut production in Texas in 1974 is expected to total 420,375,000 pounds, or about 50,000,000 pounds less than 1973. Wheat production in 1974 was about half the 1973 crop. Rice is expected to be up 25 per cent, hay will be down about 12 per cent; oat production for 1974 will be down 70 per cent from 1973.

LEGISLATION will be needed to assure Texas farmers they can continue to use certain restricted-use pesticides. Under the law every state must submit a plan for certifying applicators of restricted-use pesticides to the Environmental Protection Agency on or before October, 1975. Thus, legislative action will be needed at the current session of the Texas Legislature.

TEXAS is the first, second and third in production of vegetables in 1974. Texas is first in the nation in harvested acreage for fresh market of cabbage, spinach, and watermelons.

It is second in harvested acreage of cantaloups, carrots, cucumbers, honeydews and onions.

It is third in harvested acreage, production and value of fresh market vegetables. Texas ranks behind California and Florida in this category.

Estimated production of 14 principal fresh market vegetables and melons for 1974 is 12 per cent less than 1973. And they had a total value of $135 million. This is 26 per cent below a year ago. Leading crops in order of value were onions, watermelons, carrots, cabbage, and cantaloups.

COTTON marketing continues on the dull side. Markets throughout the state were reported more active, but producers were continuing to decline offers. Prices ranged from 20 to 34 cents per pound throughout the state.

Cotton planting is set to begin in February in the Rio Grande Valley, but the outlook for cotton continues bleak due to a recession in the general economy and a downturn in business in the textile industry.

Pesticide Publication Available

AUSTIN--Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced publication of the 1974 Sample Analysis of Economic Pesticides, a book to provide Texas pesticide buyers with information about products available in the state.

The 122-page book contains the results of laboratory tests on nearly 1,500 products from 154 companies. It notes products on which stop sale orders were issued.

Copies are available by writing Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Tex. 78711.

ANOTHER GREAT VARIETY FROM ROGERS

QUAPAW cotton

GOOD PRODUCTION

Quapaw cotton has a consistent high lint yield with approximately 85 pounds per bale more seed production than most other varieties.

GOOD MICRONAIRE

Quapaw's early maturity gives consistent good fiber with micronaire between 3.8 and 4.5 (well within market specifications). Quapaw's micronaire is an important price factor in today's market.

GOOD FIBER

Quapaw cotton matures early resulting in consistency of fiber elongation. Staple length 31/32 to 34/32. Quapaw is a mature fiber of high natural luster. "The mills like it."

GOOD COLD TOLERANCE

Reports from growers (Texas Valley to High Plains) say that Quapaw can withstand more adverse conditions than most varieties resulting in "less plant over." Quapaw is bred for "once over harvesting" and is adaptable for either picker or stripper.

A birthday party was held on January 19 for all patients celebrating birthdays in January. A program of music was presented by the Ladies of the Marakville Catholic Church. They had as their guest artist, Cindy Vrazel who played several selections on the piano and Kathleen Vaculin who played "Happy Birthday" on her flute for the honorees. Miss Vaculin also played the piano.

Alfred Vrazel of the Vrazel Polka Band played several selections on his push button accordion. Father Noble spoke on "Meditation and Prayer" and wished them a Happy New Year. Cake and punch were served the residents and their guests by the hostesses. A good time was had by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Young and their sons, Greg and Bryan led services January 19.

A travelog on Hawaii was presented on slides and narrated by Mrs. Lawhon. The patients enjoyed the beautiful scenery, especially the pretty flowers of the Islands.

January 23 church services were held by Rev. Ernest Helsley. His message, "God is in Control," used the life of Joseph to show the sovereignty of God. Mrs. Mildred House and Mrs. Sharon McCullin assisted with the music. Mrs. McCullin sang, "When I've gone the Last Mile of the Way."

January 24 the residents enjoyed playing bingo with their young friends from the

M.Y.F. Assisting the residents were Laura Deloney, Tracy Barr, Tina Lester, Jaye Almand, Laura Mitchan, and Robbie Jekel.

Mrs. Nelson Green officiated at the January 26 church services. Mrs. Pam Browder and Mrs. Nelson Green assisted with Sunday School and music. The patients always enjoy the Greens and have missed them due to recent illness.

Current Events was presented by Mrs. Green on Wednesday January 29. She read some very funny short stories from the Dallas Morning News.

The residents have enjoyed the National Geographic Magazine read by Talking Book Programs. The Arts & Crafts Club has been busy making skein dolls, pot holders, and plate favors for Valentine's. The bed patients have enjoyed Bill Taylor's Songs of Faith.

The Yoemen were tested for the first time this season when the Westlake Chaparrals were playing for their life in district action. The Chaparrals had to have a win against the Yoemen in the Friday night battle to keep their bid in for the district title.

At the end of the first quarter the Chaps looked as though they meant business. However, the poise and character of Coach Ken Poole's roundballers couldn't be shaken.

Coming down to the wire in district loop action, it looks like the Yoemen can take the title undefeated, but, of course, everyone shoots at the number one team.

In visiting with Coach Poole, he had the following remarks about last week's game and what the Yoemen will face in this week's outings.

Coach Poole said: "We had real fine effort against the Leander Lions. We ran our zone defense and they couldn't hit outside. Harry Brooks and Gary Hornung hit 22 points and did an excellent job on the boards. Randy Sapp and Kenneth Scott both were in the double figures."

About the Westlake game Coach Poole stated: "We got off to a real slow start. Westlake did play a real fine game against us and were hitting real well from the field. Walter McMillan hit 20 points against our man-to-man defense. This is unusual and Michael White did an outstanding job against him, but he was real hot. Westlake had a chance for the district title and they needed the win against us.

About the Manor game Ken Poole said: "Manor is 1-10 at the present time. They have a real young ballclub, which hurts in a competitive district. They have lost some real close games and we are looking for a good game when we play them Friday night."

The Yoemen will lack only two more games after this week of district action. The Yoemen will face Elgin at Elgin and then host the Hearne Eagles in the final district bout.

The girls of Yoe High will display their athletic abilities as the Volleyball season starts this week. The team will travel to Killen in their season opener.

Volley Sets Schedule

The Yoe High Volleyball team will start their season this Thursday night against Killen. Coach Pat Short announced the varsity members and will play 4 zone games to determine the zone champs who will play against the winner of the Elgin, Leander, and Westlake zone.

Included with Cameron's zone is Rosebud-Lott and Caldwell. The girls have a chance to extend the Yoemen winning tradition this season in exciting girls competition.

Yoemen Continue District Lead

The Cameron Yoemen marked their eleventh district win as they marched past the Rosebud-Lott Cougars, 70-37. Coach Ken Poole entered the "centenary" club as the win marked his 100th career victory.

Within the first minute and a half all five Yoemen starters popped the net and took an early 10-0 lead. The Cougars were finally able to penetrate the hoop, but only hit two field goals in the opening quarter.

The Cougars couldn't understand how everytime they went up for a shot a Yoemen seemed to always be there. Ronnie Bennett and Harry Brooks gave the Cougar shooters a hard time each choking the Cougars five times.

By the end of the first quarter the Yoemen were sporting a 20 point lead over the Cougars. The Yoemen came out with a full court press that seemed to work with unpenetrable success.

By the halftime intermission the Yoemen continued their district supremacy by taking a 37-15 lead.

With smooth precision the Yoemen went to work on the Cougars in the second half. Switching in Yoe reserves throughout the game the Yoemen continued mounting their lead.

In the third quarter the Yoemen outscored the Cougars by 6 points. The boards were swept clean by Ronnie Bennett and Harry Brooks, while the Cougars only watched in dismay. Bennett claimed 17 offensive and defensive rebounds while Brooks brought down 10 tough rebounds.

In the final 8 minutes of the contest the Yoemen claimed a 5 point scoring advantage. By the final buzzer the Yoemen sported the 70-37 win which increased their district ledger to 11-0. For the season the Yoemen sport a 13-3 ledger. For the Cougars, in district action, they sport a 5-6 and for the season, 10-13 record.

On the books the game was indicative of the score. The Yoemen hit a hot 51 percent in the first half but for the game they hit 32 of 83 shots. The Cougars hit 13 field goals of 52 tries.

The Yoemen went to the grace line 14 times and dumped in 6. The Cougars attempted 18 free throws and penetrated the hoop 11 times.

The Yoemen will face Manor in district action at Manor. The Rosebud-Lott Cougars will host the Hearne Eagles in district competition.

In freshman action the Yoemen took the close decision over the Cougars, 58-55. The game was all tied up at the halftime intermission at 22 all. Errol Spells led the scoring pace for the Yoe cagers by dumping in 20. Curtis Wise also hit double figures with 14.

The Cameron Yoe High junior varsity cagers suffered a 13 point defeat, 53-40. The Yoemen were looking at a 7 point deficit at the end of the first half. The Yoemen had closed the gap to three by the end of the third quarter. The Cougars poured on the steam and out shot the Yoemen on the final quarter. Joe Smithman set the pace for the Yoemen with 16. Brian Wilkinson, Gene Goeke and David Kornegay each hit 6 points for their evening effort. C. E. Wolf led the way for the winning Cougars with 18.

Eagles Net District Win

The Milano Eagles came closer to their district title when they defeated the Holland Hornets, 68-49.

In the first quarter the Eagles were looking at a 12 all on the scoreboard. Everytime the Eagles pumped the ball through the hoop the Hornets countered their scoring move.

The Eagles poured on the steam and shot past the Hornets in the second quarter. The Eagles dumped in 27 points to the Hornets 11 in the second section of play.

In the third quarter the Eagles doubled the Hornets attack by putting in 20 points. Bruce Williams blazed the net for 30 points in the evening effort. Bruce Williams pumped in 22 for the Hornets effort.

The Holland Hornets tried desperately to overcome the fatal shooting of the Eagles. In the final period the Hornets dropped in 17 points while the Eagles popped in only 9 points.

The Holland girls were the only winning team, and defeated the Eagles in a seesaw battle, 55-49. Throughout the first half the game never varied by more than three points. At the end of the first quarter the Eagles were downed by one. At the halftime the Hornets sported a 2 point advantage over the Eagles.

Sharon Kelley set the scoring pace for the Hornets with 25 and Darla Jones also hit double figures with 18. For the Milano Eagles, Cheryl Kornegay pumped in 28 points.

In B team action the Eagles downed the Hornet girls, 45-26. Barbara Mills popped the net for 27 points for the winning effort. Penney Karl hit 12 for the Hornets.

The district title will come down to the wire in District 54 B. The Eagles will face the Troy Trojans in the game that will decide the district champions. The game will be played in Troy and the crown will be on the line.

Boat Show Has Record Crowds

Final auditing of attendance at the Houston International Boat, Sports, and Travel Show has revealed that despite inflation, recession, and rumors of rationing gasoline the South's largest outdoors exposition broke all previous attendance records and possibly sales records as well.

A total of 317,682 sportmen toured the nine-day show Jan. 3-11 eclipsing the old record in '74 of 269,861. Although individual sales records of dealers and distributors are not kept by show management, reports from some of the larger exhibitors indicated the huge crowds were not just "lookers."

Several dealers reported sales of larger and more expensive boats being higher percentage wise than the smaller craft, and theorized that many customers were taking the expensive equipment now partly in apprehension that prices would go even higher. Others said they were buying because if they got laid off work they would do a lot more fishing, and they wanted to be sure they had new equipment that would last a long time.

Economists with several national marine manufacturing firms saw the Houston show as a healthy indication that the economy is really in better shape than some graphs show, and that the outdoors sports industries will become economic strongholds just as they have been in every other recession and depression in this country's history.

Although the Houston area has not been as hard hit by recession as many other areas, interests in boat buying is apparently not just a regional thing. The oldest boat show in the country, the New York National Motor Boat Show, reported heavy crowds and surprisingly strong markets in its recently ended production.

The Houston International however, is now believed to be the nation's leader in sales. It is sponsored by the Boating Trade Association of Metropolitan Houston, a non-profit group of area marine dealers dedicated to business ethics and public service.

Murray-Go-Round

By Tom Murray

MUCHO SPORTS:

Hey, there is a strange silence among the Houston Sports Media. Two, or three, years ago, those Big Mouths were stating, as fact, that University of Houston football - and basketball - was superior to the brand played in the Southwest Conference.

Then, to punctuate their little one-sided, condescending games, these fellows picked up an ally, of sorts, proclaiming the Lone Star Conference was also stronger in basketball. That, of course, was no news to a Texan. Many years of the past, Lone Star basketball was superior to the SWC. Anyway, ever since Texas upended Guy Lewis' UH Cagers in the first round of the NCAA play-off two years ago, the Big City Media UH Cheerleading has subsided.

Other SWC teams have defeated the now unfrocked Cougars, who were being called the "UCLA of the Bayou." Tech defeated 'em again about a month ago; so where is the Big Parade to explain the SWC superiority over Houston?

And one more thing you haven't read in a Houston newspaper, nor heard discussed on the Telly: Apparently the Lone Star is no longer running off and leaving the SWC Cagers either. Did you notice the Aggies whipped recent NAIA King Sam Houston, 101-71?

QUICKIES:

All-State defensive tackle Steve Timmons, 6-1, 224-pounds and rapid, signed with Darrell Royal's University of Texas Longhorns Tuesday. The Baytown Sterling lad is the son of James Timmons, a starting Rice guard of 1950-51.

Rice Coach Al Conover has told intimates the current crop of schoolboy recruits is the best, and deepest, of any he's seen since coming to Texas. Ask around among grid gossipers to find the supposed recruiting cheaters in SWC circles and you get one huge surprise. One school is almost always accused and certainly it's one you'd little suspect.

Since Bum Phillips, a respected assistant, worked for Sid Gillman at San Diego, and Old Bum insisted Sid was welcome to help him coach the Houston Oilers, perhaps Sir Sidney really did not retire after all. As G.M., with field privileges, Gillman may be stronger in both places.

Sports Roundup

ROGERS

The Roger Eagles took three in a row over Granger in district roundball action. The Roger boys walked away with their contest, 68-57. The Roger girls sported an easy, 81-39 win over Granger. In girls junior varsity action the Eagles won, 51-7. For the varsity boys Mark Sebek set the winning pace with 24. Jan Wilde dumped in 22 points for the girls winning pace. The Eagles will travel to Florence for their next district outing.

BARTLETT

The Bartlett Bulldogs bumped off the Pflugerville Panthers, 57-42. The win brought forth an 8-3 district record. L. V. Anderson set the pace for the Bartlett scoring attack with 15. Also hitting double figures were Mike Walker and Daniel Blane with 14 each. The Bartlett girls lost in a close decision to the Panthers, 55-54. In boys B team action the Panthers did no wrong as they shot past the Bulldogs, 36-11.

TROY

In a game that ended before the final buzzer the Troy Trojan won on a forfeit, 66-29. Coach Mike Shain pulled his Badgers off the court with three minutes still remaining on the clock. Shain forgot, the first commandment, Thou shalt not protest a Referee. . . . In the shortened version, Tom Dooley of the Trojan team pumped in 23 for the high point status. Johnny Salazar dropped in 10 for the losing effort.

CRAWFORD

Looking at a 10 point deficit with less than three minutes showing the Bearcat of Moody sprang back to win the contest, 57-55. Michael Gutton hit a shot from the top of the key as the final buzzer sounded to give the Bearcats the 2 point advantage. In junior varsity action Moody eased past Crawford, 42-39.

Consumer Market Report

A record crop of navel oranges is coming to market, according to a consumer marketing information specialist.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service termed navel oranges "most economical" this year.

"Grapefruit quality is excellent and prices attractive - especially in the 15 and 18 pound bags," she added.

Other vegetables on this week's shopping list could be dry beans, dry peas, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, turnips, rutabagas, hard shell squash, onions, and sweet potatoes, the Texas A&M University System specialists said.

At fruit counters, apples still offer a good buy, price-wise, and winter pears - the Anjou variety, which is green even when ripe, and sweet - are in ample supply with prices steady.

Other choices are bananas, grapes, and strawberries. At pork counters, supplies are about the same as a week ago. Boston butt, quarter-loins cut into chops, and liver offer reasonable prices, while semi-boneless ham and frankfurters head the list of smoked items," Mrs. Clyatt said.

"Good beef values include both heavy and light beef. Feature cuts are chuck roast and steaks, round steaks, ground beef, and beef liver.

"At egg counters, prices are steady - moderate to low for this time of year."

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: Onions are quite plentiful with low price tags.

Look for firm, dry onions. Each should have a papery outer shell and be reasonably free from green sunburn spots and blemishes.

Stutts

Claude Stutts, 74, of Cameron, died Saturday night in a Temple hospital after a short illness.

Mr. Stutts was born and raised in Milam County and was a veteran of World War II.

Funeral service was held at 3 p.m. Monday in the chapel of Green Funeral Home with Rev. Thomas Dusek officiating. Burial was in the Rice Cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Lilly Mae Stutts of Cameron; one sister, Mrs. Mary Goff of Victoria; and a number of nieces and nephews.

Green Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Jehovah's Witnesses To Assemble

Jehovah's Witnesses in Cameron have received notification of their next semi-annual assembly of ministers to be held in Taylor, March 1 and 2.

The convention will carry the theme of "Have We Kept Our Senses and Been Watchful?" Durwood Herbellin, presiding elder for the local congregation said.

Sessions will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday morning, 1:55 p.m. in the afternoon and again at 6:40 in the evening at the Taylor High School Auditorium.

Sunday meetings will begin at 9 a.m. with sessions featuring the water baptism by complete immersion of several new ministers.

Highlight of the two-day meet will be the public address at 2 p.m. Sunday on the subject, "Stand Still and See the Salvation of Jehovah," delivered by the district representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York, Paul D. Moske.

The public is invited to attend any and all sessions with no collections taken.

Landscaping Is Good Investment

Present-day investments deserve careful consideration, and you can't go wrong by investing in your home landscape.

That's the word from Everette Janne, a landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Trees and shrubs around your home may be worth five or six times what you paid for them," says Janne.

Trees and shrubs that are adapted to their environment and properly placed in the landscape rapidly increase in value, notes the horticulturist with the Texas A&M University System.

"Before building a home, develop a good landscape plan or design," suggests Janne. "This means allowing money for landscaping in the total budget. At least 10 percent of the cost of the house and lot should be allocated for landscaping. A landscape plan should feature simplicity, with plenty of space for trees and shrubs to grow and develop."

If a house is several years old, it is not too late to develop a landscape plan or to redesign an old plan, Janne points out. The first step is deciding whether areas of the yard are being used to their fullest potential.

"Design the outdoor living area to keep maintenance at a minimum. The area should be convenient to the living room or family room. Keep in mind the needs and interests of all family members when planning this area," advises the horticulturist.

Plan the outdoor work area so that it is easily accessible to the kitchen, utility room, and garage. Consider space for clothes drying, a garbage rack, tool storage, and a compost area.

For best results, Janne advises consulting a professional landscape architect to help with your landscaping.

BAROMETER OF LIFE

Would it really help to have an instrument to predict the storms of life?

When the barometer falls it's too late to build a sea wall or to dig a cyclone cellar. Wise men prepare when the wind is calm. A leaking roof must be mended while the sun shines.

The Church does not claim to provide a barometer of life. But it preaches every Sunday the spiritual readiness which climaxed Christ's Sermon on the Mount:

"Whoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man which built his house upon a rock:

"And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat upon that house. . .

"And it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock."

Seven Close Alcoa Careers

Seven employees with over 150 years combined service retired February 1 at Aluminum Company of America's Rockdale Works, according to D. D. McGregor, plant manager. Closing out their Alcoa careers were Floyd Blackmon, Andrew Jenkins, Fred Jones, Leonard Kerlin, Colquitt Reynolds, Walter Snelgro, and Robert Rowland.

Blackmon, a native of Rockdale and an Air Force veteran, joined Alcoa in 1952 as a potroom trainee. Later that year, he was promoted to taper-carbon changer and to head potman in 1963 and to potroom utility man seven years later.

Jenkins, a native of Minnesota, joined Alcoa in 1952 in the potrooms. He was promoted to taper-carbon changer the following year and to craneman in 1954. Jones, a Milam County native and member of the Rockdale Masonic Lodge, joined the company as a laborer in 1953. Two years later he was promoted to janitor, the position held for the past 20 years.

Kerlin, a native of Taylor, joined Alcoa in 1952 as a production helper. The following year he was promoted to tool attendant and to tool room attendant in 1959.

Reynolds, a native of Lexington, three-year Navy veteran and member of the American Legion, joined the company as a production helper in 1952. He was promoted to carbon plant operator the following year and to furnace helper in 1954. In 1972 he was promoted to production welder.

Snelgro, a native of Gause, joined Alcoa in 1952 as washroom attendant and was promoted to janitor the following year.

Rowland, a native of Lexington, three-year Army veteran and member of the Masonic Lodge, joined the company as a production helper in 1953. He was promoted to potman in 1954 and held subsequent positions as taper-carbon changer and head taper-carbon changer.

Auto Repair Bills Climbing

"Inflation is in the driver's seat and everyone else better be prepared for a wild ride. Even with the frequency of accidents declining somewhat, the costs for settling claims is increasing.

"It's unfortunate but true," states O. A. Edgeworth, chairman of the Texas Automobile Insurance Service Office (TAISO), "that repair bills are climbing, along with everything else."

Unfortunately, this is probably most apparent to those automobile owners who face the recently revised rates that went into effect in January.

"Most people don't understand that auto insurances has to be adequately priced to cover such items as the soaring costs of medical services and car repairs," says Edgeworth. "This makes it more difficult to readily accept increases in charges—but until the economy is settled down, these rate adjustments have to be accepted—or it will become harder to find insurance."

When State Insurance Board Chairman Joe Christie announced the adjustment in most auto rates, he urged drivers to review their policies to be certain they were taking advantage of cost-saving options. The Board has approved a defensive driving course, for instance, that upon completion allows a 10 percent decrease in automobile insurance costs.

Edgeworth predicts automobile insurance rates will continue to inch upward, "until we win the battle against inflation." In the meantime, most observers suggest reviewing each policy to see that it is exactly what is needed.

TAISO is licensed by the State Board of Insurance to assist that agency in gathering statistical data concerning auto insurance, driver hazards, driver classifications, and auto insurance rates.

Edgeworth is regional vice president, State Farm Insurance Companies, Austin, in addition to serving as chairman of TAISO.

Increase Shown In Show Entries

FORT WORTH Livestock entries in the 79th annual Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show Jan. 24 through Feb. 2 are up 3 percent to 12,600, reports W. R. Watt Jr., general manager.

Biggest gains were posted in commercial hereford females, up 16 percent to 844 head. These cattle, from outstanding herds of the Southwest, will be judged and sold at auction on Jan. 26 at 1 p.m.

This year's Stock Show boosts of seven breed sales. Besides the commercial Herefords, sales will be held for performance tested Angus bulls, Gelbvieh cattle, Blonde d'Aquitaine cattle, Limousin cattle, Charolais cattle, and Simmental cattle, and American Quarter Horses.

Junior steers and heifers posted gains of 10 percent with over 1,600 entries. Junior steer champions will be sold at auction at 9 a.m. Tuesday, Jan. 28.

Judging will be made throughout the 10-day run of the show to choose the best of breeds showing. Premiums are in excess of $275,000, which includes $90,000 rodeo purse.

Shoreline Erosion Makes Texas Smaller

Texas is getting smaller because of land loss and erosion along its Gulf shoreline.

A study being completed by The University of Texas Bureau of Economic Geology reveals that over the past 7 to 23 years 70 percent of the entire 367-mile shoreline has experienced erosion and land loss up to 10 feet per year. Of that eroding portion, 60 percent has exceeded 10 feet per year.

The UT study was begun 2 years ago under a special appropriation from the 63rd Texas Legislature.

Review Open For Business Bonds

AUSTIN Comptroller Bob Bullock said Tuesday that some sales tax permits holders who had to post bonds because their businesses changed legal status in 1974 may request that their bond requirements be reconsidered.

Bullock said reconsiderations would apply to businesses which had been in existence without bond requirements prior to 1974 but during 1974 underwent changes in legal status without actually changing management or ownership.

These could include such changes as a small business becoming a corporation, a single ownership becoming a partnership, a merger of two businesses or a former permit holder applying for reinstatement.

"If our review shows the bond is unnecessary, we'll release it," Bullock said. "As I've said before, it's wrong to penalize a business with a good taxpaying record just because the business changes its name."

Bullock said businesses which think they might qualify for review should contact the Comptroller's district office where their bonds were assessed originally.

Several types of securities have been used to fulfill bond requirements. Cash or securities put up as bonds can be refunded by the Comptroller, but surety bonds can only be released, meaning that any premium refund is a matter between the merchant and the bonding company.

The big test in all reviews will be the past tax payments records of the business before it underwent its legal change, Bullock said. There will also be a close check made to determine that there was no substantial change in management and operations.

The right to review does not apply to bond requirements on sales tax permit holders who started new businesses for the first time in 1974.

The reconsiderations are a follow-up to Bullock's announcement recently that in the future the Comptroller's Department will take a taxpayers previous payment record into consideration when businesses make technical legal status changes and have to apply for a new sales tax permit.
